

Employment Now! Analysis

Yiming Ge

3/10/2020

19.89 K

19890 people (46% male & 54% female) from 65 different counties (55% from Brooklyn) participated in Employment Now! and 100% got employed.

$9.83

The average hourly wage from these data is $9.83 higher than NYC 2013 minimum wage $7.25 but lower than NYC 2020 minimum wage $15.

63%

The average days on job after participating this program are 1333 days (63% of people have a job tenure longer than 6 months)

99%

99% of participants have high school degree (93%) or higher(6%)

Education Level Analysis

College and higher
6%

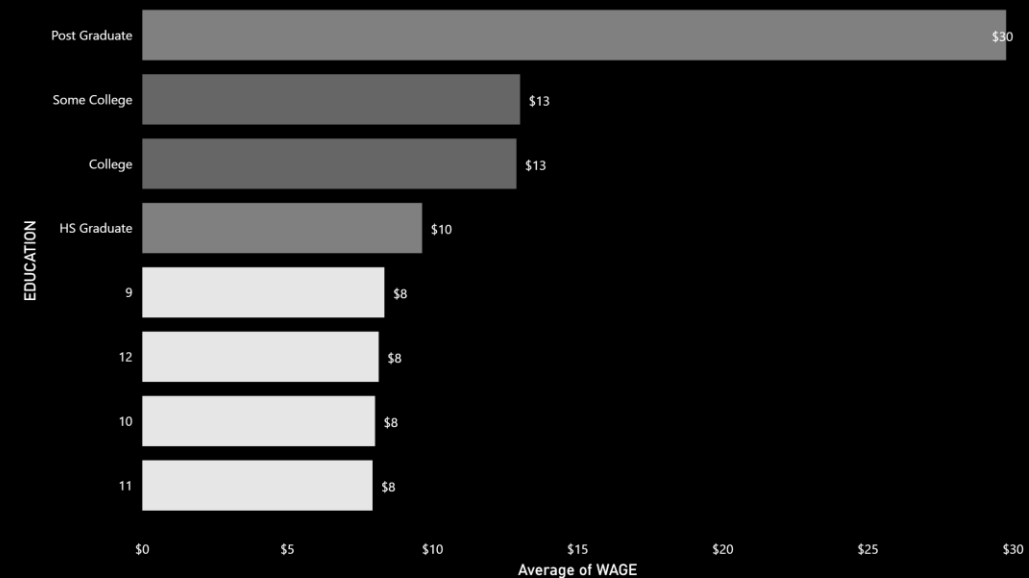

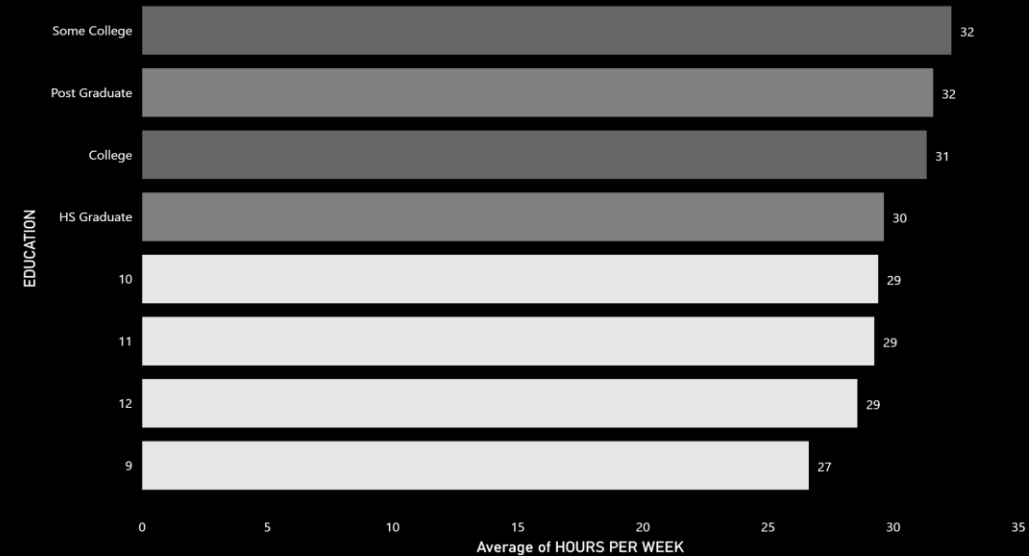

High School
93%

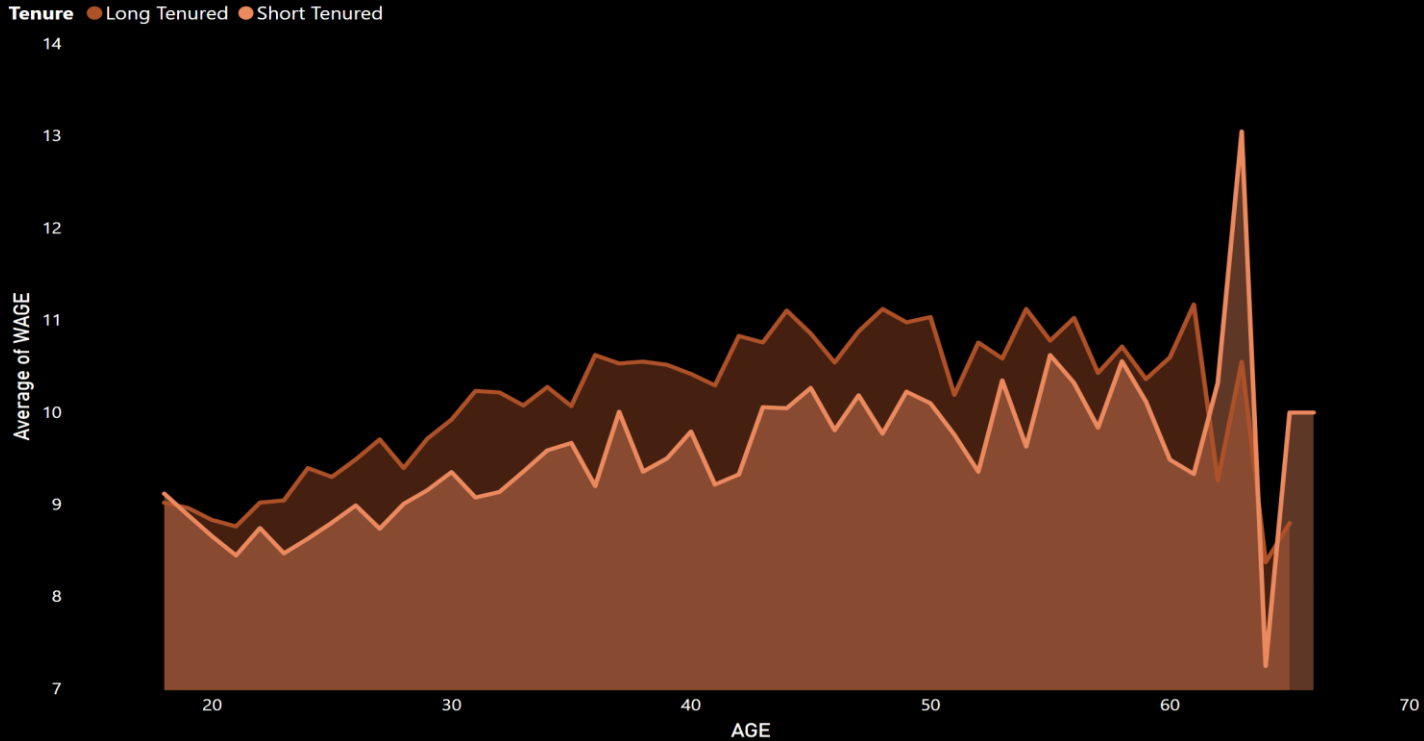

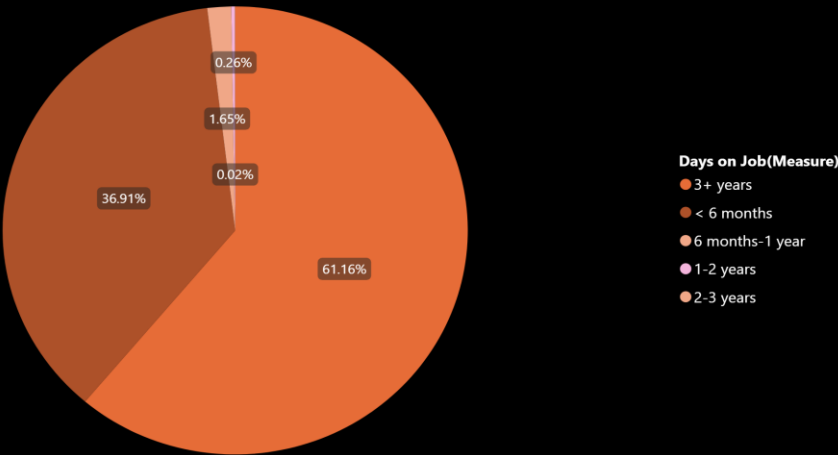

Middle School
1%

People with high school degree or higher have more working hours per week than people with middle school degree.

Obviously, people with high school degree or higher (especially post graduate degree) have higher hourly wage than people with middle school degree.

63% of participants works more than 6 months (Long Tenure) and 37% of participants works less than 6 months (Short Tenure).

In most age groups, people with long tenure have higher hourly wages than people with short tenure